Happy Easter Everyone!

I hope everyone had a wonderful Easter weekend and a memorable Lenten season.

Can you guys believe it? Sinh Hoat is about to end in two months already!! But the school year is not over as the month of April is packed with events going around our Doan. First off, we have Nghan Thieu going to Amazing Jake's on the 18th. Hiep Si is collecting donations for 30-Hour Famine on the 23rd. On the same weekend, Au Nhi is also going to Nickelrama.

Mother's day is also creeping up and Chi Mimi Hoang is fundraising by selling flowers, bouquets, and roses. So tell your dad and siblings to place an order for a dozen of roses for your mom! Remind your uncles and cousins to place orders for your aunts!

What Easter Means To You

When I was a kid, Easter used to be about nothing more than egg hunts and chocolate bunnies. As I grew older, I realized that filling your basket and biting the heads off of candy animals means nothing. The true meaning of Easter can be found in the little sacrifices that we make during Lent. Everything we do to prepare for the resurrection of Christ is small compared to what Jesus did for us. We have to learn that He died on the cross in order to save us from our sins and that that act is worth more than anything in the world. The least we can do to repay Him is better ourselves and bring ourselves closer to Him so that we can see Him in heaven one day. Go ahead and eat that Snickers egg, but remember to thank Jesus for His sacrifice and continue to make your own sacrifices after Lent is over. Who says that you can only be good for 40 days anyways? Take your spiritual experiences from this Lenten season and apply it to everything you do for the rest of your life because that's what Easter's all about.
